DETAILED ACTION

This is a response to the Applicant's filing on 10/04/2004 and preliminary amendment concurrently filed therewith. In virtue of this amendment, claims 1-6 are currently presented in the instant application.

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 10/04/2004 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Drawings Objections

2. The drawings are objected to because (a) Figs. 3 and 4 are not labeled correctly, and (b) reference numerals "19" are used for both parts/devices ("19" should be deleted).

3. Figures 3 and 4 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2821

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Truskalo et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,437,523 B1).

With respect to claim 1, Truskalo et al. discloses, in Figs. 1 and 2a, a video display apparatus comprising (1) a cathode ray tube having a display screen with a shorter first axis and a longer second axis perpendicular to said first axis (see col. 1, lines 13-29), (2) a first deflection field generator [60] for producing a first deflection field in a beam path of an electron beam of said cathode ray tube at a first deflection frequency to vary a position of said electron beam, alternately, in a direction of said first axis and in a direction that is opposite to said first axis to provide for bi-directional scanning (see col. 2, lines 8-22; col. 3, lines 7-50), and (3) a second deflection field generator [20] for producing a second deflection field in a beam path at a second deflection frequency lower than said first deflection frequency to vary a position of said electron beam, alternately, in a direction of said second axis and in a direction that is opposite to said second axis (see col. 2, lines 8-22 and 41-51).

With respect to claim 2, Truskalo et al. discloses, in Figs. 1 and 2a, that in normal viewing, said first axis is disposed in a vertical direction with respect to a viewer.

With respect to claim 3, Truskalo et al. discloses, in Figs. 1 and 2a, that at least one of said first and second deflection generators comprises a deflection winding (see col. 3, lines 13-15) that produces a magnetic deflection field (see col. 3, lines 25-29).

With respect to claim 4, Truskalo et al. discloses, in Fig. 1, that the first deflection field varies in a sinusoidal manner (which has $80 \cdot V_{p-p}$).

With respect to claim 5, Truskalo et al discloses, in Fig. 1, that the second deflection field includes a portion that varies in a flyback manner (via IHVT; see col. 2, lines 52-59).

With respect to claim 6, Truskalo et al. discloses, in Figs. 1 and 2a, that the display screen has an aspect ratio of 4 by 3 (which is equivalent to the width and height of the screen; see col. 1, lines 23-28).

Citation of relevant prior art

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Prior art Uwabata et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,534,920 B1) discloses a horizontal deflection circuit and bidirectional horizontal deflection apparatus.

Prior art Nio et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,429,899 B1) discloses a video display apparatus.

Prior art Tadano et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,208,320 B1) discloses a video apparatus.

Prior art Spruck (U.S. Patent No. 4,988,927) discloses a deflection circuit for a television picture tube.

Prior art Ambrico et al. (U.S. Patent No. 3,809,947) discloses a sine wave deflection system.
